

American Planning Association
Making Great Communities Happen

“The value is in the connections you make—with people and subject matter. You can’t get that in the classroom.”

Ellen Forthofer, APA Student Representatives Council Chair,
Ball State University graduate

Free APA membership for students for the duration of your studies.

When you belong to APA, you’ll find the tools and resources to:

- Launch your professional future
- Become an agent of change
- Transform places to live, work, and play

Photo courtesy of Gurdeep Kaur, a graduate of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Plan to succeed.

Visit planning.org/join/students

APA provides what you need to launch a rewarding career.

Career services

Get expert strategies, tactics, and tips for building a career

Distinguish yourself

Win awards and scholarships, and showcase your work

Leadership

Build your reputation by serving on the Student Representatives Council or a Young Planners Group

Networking

Connect with mentors, future employers, and industry leaders in your community and beyond

Make a difference

Shape policy, help communities in need, and inspire the next generation of planners

Information

Access the latest industry research and trends

Become certified

Earn the prestigious AICP certification, which you can begin as a student or at any stage of your career—see planning.org/aicp/why

The right fit for every stage of your academic and professional career.

When you're in school

Become a student member for free for the duration of your studies, as long as you're pursuing any degree.

While you're getting started

Continue as an APA member after you've graduated with special introductory dues for two years as you transition into your career.

Once your career gets rolling

Continue to enjoy all the career-building advantages of APA membership with salary-based dues.

Ready to become an APA member?

Get started at planning.org/join/students